Celebrating a Decade of Impact

2026 marks the 11th Annual Valley Made Manufacturing Summit, and the year the conversation changes. We are turning our focus to the transformation that is reshaping every factory floor in America: artificial intelligence, robotics, and intelligent automation.

What started as a bold idea has become the Central Valley's most influential convening of manufacturers, educators, workforce leaders, and policymakers. And this year, we are bringing together the voices, local and national, that will help our region lead the next chapter.

Why Sponsors Keep Coming Back

“The Valley Made Summit feels authentic to the region. The people attending care about manufacturing, workforce, and the future of the Valley. That’s why we keep showing up.” - Operations Executive,
Industrial Supplier

“This isn’t a tradeshow where people grab a giveaway and disappear. We made valuable connections with manufacturers, educators, and workforce leaders who we still work with today.” - VP of Human Resources,
Food Processing Company

“Sponsoring the Summit positioned us alongside organizations that are actively building the future workforce. The exposure was valuable, but the relationships were even more important.” - Vice President,
Regional Financial Institution

Why It Matters:

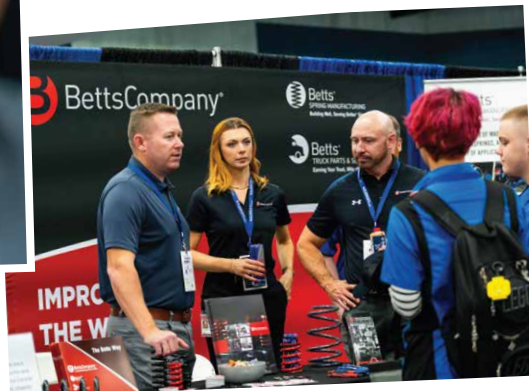

Manufacturing continues to shape the future of the Central Valley through innovation, technology, workforce opportunity, and economic impact. The Valley Made Manufacturing Summit brings together the people driving that future forward, from manufacturers and business leaders to educators, students, policymakers, and workforce partners. The conversations that happen here lead to partnerships, hiring connections, new ideas, and real momentum for the region.

For many attendees, the Summit is one of the few opportunities each year to step outside of day-to-day operations and connect with others facing similar challenges and opportunities. Whether the focus is workforce development, AI and emerging technology, leadership, operations, or industry growth, the Summit creates space for practical conversations that move beyond theory and into action.

Why Attend, Support, or Sponsor

- ✓ Connect directly with manufacturers, industry suppliers, educators, workforce leaders, and decision-makers from across the region
- ✓ Stay informed on emerging trends shaping manufacturing, technology, workforce, and operations
- ✓ Build relationships that can lead to new business opportunities, partnerships, and talent connections
- ✓ Showcase your company's leadership and commitment to the future of manufacturing in the Valley
- ✓ Support workforce development efforts that strengthen local industry and create career pathways for the next generation
- ✓ Engage with students and emerging talent exploring careers in manufacturing and skilled trades
- ✓ Be part of a regional effort focused on innovation, economic growth, and long-term industry success
- ✓ Align your brand with one of the largest manufacturing events in California

Choose Your Sponsorship Path
